Re:  CONSULTING GROUP
CQ ENVIRONMENTAL CQ ENGINEERING

Patrice Brown and her team at CQ Consulting Group have worked extensively in the sugar industry providing a range of services to sugar milling clients in recent years.

Sugar industry stakeholders have always placed a high value on trust and known networks in business relationships. CQ Consulting Group embraces this value in dealing with their sugar industry clients and this assists them to deliver solutions to what are, at times, complex problems.

It is their capacity to become an extension to their clients business that enables them to deliver exceptional value. They provide leadership and integrity, professional skills and they have a demonstrated capacity to solve problems for their clients.

Yours sincerely
