

To whom it may concern

Regional Tourism and Business Awards.

I have worked with Patrice through the evolution of her business as it has grown from a small boutique environmental consultancy firm (in the CQ Environmental days) to now include engineering, planning and project management consultancy services and a staff of 20.

Throughout this time and even as the business has grown, the service provided by Patrice and her staff has remained individual, personal and tailored to my needs as a client.

I enjoy my interactions with the CQ Consulting team who deliver the quality product I require but never lose their sense of fun.

If a project comes across my desk that requires environmental, planning or engineering services, there is only one place I go and have gone to achieve the desired results – CQ Consulting Group.

I could expand on this and I am very happy to do so – that might be best achieved if you rang me direct on my mobile, 0417698731 or emailed me on bstephens@sdh.net.au

Kind Regards
